How to Fight the High Cost of Living

Pumpkin Pie and Other Recipes—Ladies Must Send in Recipes for Contest Before 6 P. M. Tomorrow Night—Read the Rules Carefully and Don't Forget the Cans of Beans Are Here for Winners.

PUMPKIN PIE CONTEST RULES.

One dozen 15-cent cans of Pierce's Pork and Beans, offered by this department for the best and cheapest Pumpkin Pie. Read the rules here following and then get those 12 cans of Pork and Beans.

First—Every lady in Ogden who is a member of a family in which the Evening Standard has a subscriber is eligible in this contest.

Second—All such ladies to enter the contest must present their recipe for making pumpkin pie for publication during the week beginning December 8, 1912, and before 6 o'clock Friday evening, December 13, 1912.

Third—All those who present their recipes as above described, giving their full name and address, are entitled to make and present a pumpkin pie of ordinary size at the Standard office at 2:30 o'clock sharp, on Tuesday, December 17, 1912, where the pies will be judged at once. Only the initials of the names will be printed in the paper, but the full name must be presented with each recipe.

Fourth—Each pie will be numbered as it arrives and the owner will be given the duplicate number in a sealed envelope, which she will not open until the judging is over.

Fifth—Isaac Pierce, better known as "Pure Food Ike," will be the presiding judge, and the ladies and gentlemen employees of the Standard business office and editorial rooms will vote by ballot, declaring the winner.

To the first best pie, costing the least money, will be awarded one dozen cans of Pierce's best pork and beans.

To the second best pumpkin pie, costing the least money, will be awarded eight cans of Pierce's best pork and beans.

To the third best pumpkin pie, costing the least money, will be awarded four cans of Pierce's best pork and beans.

Sixth—The judges will allow 100 points in scoring each pie, as follows:

Not over 30 points for general appearance.

Not over 20 points for taste and seasoning.

Not over 20 points for proper baking.

Not over 20 points for cost of pie. Total, 100 points.

The lowest cost of any pie presented shall score 30 for cost, all others in proportion.

Seventh—Each pie presented must be accompanied by the recipe printed as clipped from the Standard.

Eighth—Now present your pie recipe. Let there be a regular pie department for the coming week. Present any pie recipe you wish, but only pumpkin pies can enter the contest.

Such pumpkin pies as mother used to make were cheap, good, and healthy as well as fattening, and should be just what is needed during high priced times.

HOW TO MAKE ENDS MEET.
Editor Standard: I would like to offer the following experience:

"In order to make both ends meet in these times when the cost of living is so great and salaries are uniformly small, I have found the first and foremost thing is to pay a month's rent in accordance with the amount of a husband's one week salary. For instance, when my husband earned $20 per week we could afford to live only in a $20 flat, and so on. The next week's earnings was a much less cost, and the food throughout the month, and the month for fuel and clothing for a month. The last week's earnings was for extras and for the savings account. When potatoes were priced at their highest, rice, sweet corn in season, and other wholesome foods were substituted, thereby giving us the required strength at a much less cost. By following the above rule we have been able to accumulate quite a little saving and I trust other young couples will be benefited by our experience."

PRESERVED PUMPKIN.
Cut one large yellow pumpkin into fairly small pieces. Weigh these and to each pound add one pound of sugar. When thoroughly mixed add a fill of lemon juice to each pound of pumpkin and set aside for 12 hours. Then boil the mixture in the preserving kettle until the pumpkin is tender, then place in jars; strain the syrup, reheat it to the boiling point and pour it over the pumpkin. Then seal.

Stuffed and Baked Peppers.
Cut the tops from green peppers and with a sharp knife extract all seeds and white membrane. Lay the seeds in a bowl, pour boiling water over them, and leave until cold, thus extracting the "hot taste" from them. Drain, wipe, and fill with a mixture made of one part boiled rice and two parts chopped and seasoned cooked meat—beef, mutton, lamb, or chicken. Moisten this mixture with a good gravy or a little soup stock. Set the stuffed peppers side by side in a baking pan and pour around them a little soup stock to prevent their burning. Bake until tender, transfer to a hot dish, thicken the gravy left in the pan, pour it about the peppers, and send to the table.

CORNMEAL MUSH.
There will be enough boiled at one time for 2 meals. Put 2 quarts of water on in top of double boiler. When boiling add 3 cups yellow cornmeal slowly and 3 cups yellow salt. Boil slowly, stirring until it has thickened, then put the top of boiler in the water and boil 2 hours, or leave on coal range all night. When you use gas, keep over the simmer, which is turned low all night. Use half for mush and milk; the other half put into square pan to cool. The next morning cut into half inch slices, dust with a little flour, put on a griddle which has been brushed with drippings and brown on both sides. Do not fry in fat. Mush prepared in this way is very good. E. L. F.

PUMPKIN PIE.
Mix 3 cups thick stewed and sieved pumpkin, 2 cups milk, 1 cup sugar, 1 teaspoonful salt, 2 eggs; season to suit taste with nutmeg and small amount of cinnamon. Do not use too much spice in pumpkin pie, as it will spoil the flavor. Line 2 pie plates, as for custard pie, and bake in a moderate oven until well done and a rich golden brown on top. When eggs are high, crackers rolled very fine may be used. Use one egg instead of two and a sufficient amount of the cracker dust to make the mixture of the required consistency.

MASHED TURNIPS.
Slice thin and boil until tender a dozen medium sized turnips; pour off the water, drain dry, mash fine and pour over a liberal amount of sweet milk; add a small piece of butter, pepper and salt to taste and return to stove, allowing the mixture to boil up briskly for 4 or 5 minutes, being careful not to allow it to burn. You will find that turnips cooked in this way have a delicious flavor.

CANNED CABBAGE.
Four large heads of cabbage, 4 or 5 large onions, 3 red peppers. Chop all very fine, mix, add 5 cents' worth white mustard seed, 5 cents' worth celery seed, 6 level teaspoonfuls of salt, 4 very scant pints of sugar, 6 pints of vinegar. Bring to a boil and can—Kindness of Reader.

CARROT JAM.
Boil the carrots until they are tender, drain them and mash them through a colander. For each pound of carrot pulp allow one pound of sugar and the grated rind and juice of one lemon. Boil slowly until the mixture jellies.

PUMPKIN PIE.
One teaspoon pumpkin, half pint sweet milk, 1 egg, half cup sugar, butter the size of a hazel nut, 1 teaspoon ginger, half teaspoon cinnamon, half teaspoon grated nutmeg, 1 white of an egg on top.

SWEET POTATO PIE.
One pint of mashed sweet potatoes, 1 cup of sweet milk, 1 cup of sugar, a piece of butter, 4 eggs. Season with nutmeg and a dash of lemon (not too much); pour into crust lined pan and bake.

BROWN-TOP PUDDING.
Put into a pudding dish slices of stale cake, pour over it a custard flavored with lemon; cover the top with a meringue; bake brown; serve with lemon sauce.

Crabapple Jelly.
Wash the apples, cut into quarters, and put them, still wet, into a preserving kettle. Cover and set at the side of the range to steam and simmer until broken and until the juice flows freely from them, then stew until the fruit is broken into bits. Turn into a jelly bag and allow all the juice to drip out; return this to the fire and boil for twenty minutes. At the end of that time add a pound of warmed sugar for every pint of juice. Boil up once, remove from the fire, and pour into glasses.

SOCIETY
The home of Dr. and Mrs. A. Fernlund, 816 Washington avenue, was prettily decorated with palms and flowers for the wedding given there by Mr. and Mrs. Addison J. Chamberlain, when their daughter, Miss Lillian U. C. Chamberlain, and Fred A. Rogers of Grand Junction, Colo., were united in marriage. Rev. John Edward Carver officiated.

The bride was gown in pink satin covered with a blue chiffon overdress, trimmed with real lace, and carried a beautiful shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Mina Lund attended as bridesmaid and wore a chumy lace dress over white silk.

The service was spoken beneath a huge bower of pink roses and sun-lax. Miss Alberta Rogers played Mendelssohn's "Wedding March."

The groom was attended by Byron Fernlund, and a moment later the bride, attended by Miss Lund, and leaning upon the arm of her father, was given by him in wedlock, the beautiful ring service being used.

The dining room was decorated with white roses and lilies of the valley, and here the wedding supper was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Rogers were the recipients of many beautiful and expensive presents. They will leave today for an extended tour of the coast cities and after spending a time in San Diego will receive their friends in their new home at the corner of Sixth and Teller streets, Grand Junction, Colo.

Among the out-of-town guests were Miss Alberta Rogers, Mrs. Samuel Kertz of Grand Junction, Colo., Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Lund of Salt Lake City, Mrs. S. M. Rogers of Grand Junction, Mrs. J. M. Kimball, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Williams of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Latham of Omaha, Miss Marion Bailey of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Williams of Chicago and Mr. J. C. Wilson of Denver.

The large home was filled with Ogden friends to wish Mr. and Mrs. Rogers a long and joyous life.
